

DEEP TRANSCRANIAL MAGNETIC STIMULATION (dTMS)

While medications can offer assistance with managing depression, some individuals find that antidepressants alone are not effective in treating their symptoms. Deep Transcranial Magnetic Stimulation (dTMS) may help those who experience long-term, challenging episodes of depression to find relief from their symptoms.

Brainsway

New Vitae Wellness and Recovery now offers dTMS to treat significant symptoms of depression in our Recovery Center in Quakertown, Pennsylvania.

dTMS:

- Begins with a psychiatric assessment
- Is scheduled in 20 minute appointments five days a week for 4 to 6 weeks
- Is used in conjunction with or without medication supports
- Uses magnetic pulses to stimulate brain structures known to be involved in symptoms of depression
- Is safe, effective, and beneficial
- Is covered by most commercial insurances and Medicare

dTMS users are awake and alert during treatment, and our holistic recovery center can provide additional outpatient behavioral health services. Learn more about the benefits associated with dTMS by contacting our office today!
